

Benjamin Negin, M.D.

Dr. Benjamin Negin has been proudly serving the cancer patients of South Jersey since 2010 at Southern Oncology Hematology Associates. Having moved to NJ at the age of two from Ohio, he has always viewed himself as a Jersey native. After completing high school, he traveled to receive both his undergraduate degree and medical degree at Yale University. Upon graduation, Dr. Negin moved to Boston in order to undergo his internal medicine residency at Beth Israel Deaconess, a training hospital of Harvard University. He completed his training at Fox Chase Cancer Center, in Philadelphia, where he received his certifications in both hematology and oncology. His academic work has been published in prominent journals such as Cancer and Clinical Cancer Research.

In addition to working with all patient who have blood or cancer related disorders, Dr. Negin is passionate about improving the overall health care of the population of South Jersey. He serves on the medical executive committee of the Inspira Health System. He also is a member in good standing of the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and The American Medical Association (AMA). He lives in South Jersey with his wife and two sons. When not practicing medicine, Dr. Negin serves the community as a scout leader, training youth in citizenship, outdoors skills, and environmental stewardship. He enjoys camping, fishing, and any excuse to be outside with his family.
